Dear Parent/Carer,

County Lines

County Lines is a term used to describe the involvement of organised criminal networks and street gangs in moving illegal drugs from cities to other parts of the UK. In Norfolk, the originating city is usually London.

Much of the activity and 'business' is conducted over a dedicated mobile phone line. Criminal networks involved in County Lines often exploit children and vulnerable adults to move and store drugs, money and weapons. This is frequently reinforced through coercion, intimidation and violence, including the use of sexual violence and weapons.

There is a growing concern about CCE in Norfolk and specifically the links to 'County Lines'.

I have been made aware that there is a game called 'Cunch-Line Chronicles'. The game promotes and sensationalises the county lines lifestyle, teaches users how to set up a trap house and recruit runners. Some local authorities have stated that it is popular with young people in their area. As it is an app, it is likely to spread quickly.

The following pages contain pictures of the game so you are aware of what it looks like.

Kind regards,

Mr A Dwight

A light hearted, satirical take on the darker side of urban UK culture

This is not your usual casual game! Cunch-line Chronicles is an endless 2d runner game that moves away from the common fantasised, softcore concept and leans more towards the gritty reality of life, while keeping a comedic factor.
